

Election Winners

Primary election day this year proved for Will county and locally, to be a rather pleasant one. There was a fairly good number of voters going to the polls. In some instances country roads were in such terrible condition that many were stuck in the mud, ruts etc. If more citizens of this Land of Freedom would put forth just a portion of the effort to vote, there would be a better expression of our citizenry. We must begin to think that if we want to retain our freedom we will have to defend it, even though that thought may not be so pleasant to us.

Total votes cast in Frankfort precinct No. 1 was 356 with 313 being Republican and 43 Democratic. Albert Krusemark Jr. received 274 votes for Republican committeeman and George Sangmeister, for Democratic committeeman.

In Mokena Frankfort precinct No. 2, total votes cast were 353; 301 Republican and 52 Democratic. Elmer L. Cooper received 266 votes as Republican committeeman and Robert Male was elected Democratic committeeman.

Unique Summer Vacation Available For City Children at Palos Park

April 24 to 29 has been set aside as National Camping week, during which time people will be reminded of the wonderful opportunities to be offered by camps all over the country. During this week the Foundation Farm Camp, one of the specialized children's camps in the Chicago area, will open registrations for its 1950 camp season.

What city-bred boy or girl would not relish the opportunity to get away from the regimentation, noise and confusion and dirt of the city for a few weeks and learn all the fascinating things of nature and farm life that are already familiar to his country cousins? The city is full of boys and girls who have never known the thrill of riding horseback, going for a hayrack ride, sleeping out under the stars for a night, getting acquainted with the animals on the farm, and the birds, rabbits, squirrels and other wild life of the woods; and of sharing these experiences with other boys and girls of their own age.

Nestled in the beautiful hills of Palos Park, just 23 miles southwest of the Chicago loop, on Southwest highway, route 7, is the unique Foundation Farm camp where a selected group of boys and girls be-Vogt's Dept. Store Has 38th Anniv.

To celebrate the 38 years Henry C. Vogt has been proprietor of the Vogt department store in Tinley Park, a big anniversary sale is being held.

The building which houses the widely known department store was built in 1886 by H. C. Vogt Sr., when he established the Bremen Cash Store. He operated a successful business until 1912, when he turned it over to his son, the present owner, and who in turn has now taken into the business his son Marvin. Together they have made many improvements and added modern facilities.

Many families boast of several generations trading with this family in this same building. As a rather coincidence, the same building once housed the post office, and now again after many years the post office is again in almost the same location, only next door and in a building newly built by Henry C. Vogt.

Many gifts are being prepared as a celebration event that are being offered to customers coming to the store during these sale days. For further particulars, read the double page ad in this issue.

ORLAND TO BE KEY POINT IN AIR DEFENSE OBSERVATION POSTSVolunteers to Report Low Flying Planes 330 Stations To Be in Northern Ill.;

Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson has announced that air defense observation posts will be established in 330 cities, towns and villages in 30 northern Illinois counties in compliance with a request of Secretary of Defense Louis C. Johnson at Washington.

The Governor said that he had directed Major General Leo M. Boyle, state director of Civil Defense for Illinois, to take immediate steps toward organization of the observation posts.

The Illinois observation posts will be part of a nationwide network of 8,250 such lookouts to be manned by volunteer citizens, male and female, and linked with the United States Air Force's radar warning system. The observation posts will be used to cover "blind spots" and gaps in the radar system.

Using the Illinois Civil Defense plan as a basis for operations, Gen. Boyle said today that each mayor, village president, township supervisor, or comparable official in each of the 330 selected cities, towns and villages in the 30 northern counties in Illinois has been asked to appoint a supervisor for the observation post in their community. Detailed instructions have been mailed to the various officials.

Mayor W. R. Schussler, Jr., of Orland Park has appointed Joseph Lebens as director of the Key Point to be located in Orland Park.

General Boyle said that when organization posts has been completed and the volunteers have been trained by the U. S. air force, the posts would be manned on a 24 hour a day basis by volunteers during several tests; thereafter the organization and personnel would be placed on a standby basis ready to answer a call in an emergency.

It is expected that several actual tests will be conducted by the air force late this summer after organization and training has been completed.

Under present plans it is contemplated that each post will be manned by a staff of 23 persons, male and female, to be chosen by the supervisor appointed for each station. After the supervisor has been appointed for each community the eastern air defense force of the U. S. Air Force at Mitchell Field, N. Y., will communicate directly with him and initiate the training program of the volunteer personnel.

In addition to the 330 observation posts, one filter center comprising 500 volunteers, male or female, will be organized in Chicago. This center will be the key point in the Illinois observation post network.

Six other downstate cities, Rock Island, Rockford, Peoria, Urbana, Kankakee and Joliet have been designated as air raid warning centers in addition to the ground observation posts in their respective communities.

General Boyle explained that it will be the duty of the observation posts to report to the Chicago filter center on low flying planes. The Chicago center will flash alert and warning signals to fighter fields anti-aircraft batteries and air raid warning centers.

The northern Illinois counties involved in the air defense program are those north of a line extending from Danville on the east thru Urbana, Peoria and to Rock Island on the west.

Garden Club to Hear Popular Lecturer

Members from garden clubs all over the state are eagerly anticipating attending a lecture "The Art of Flower Decoration," to be given by Miss Clare Cronenwett of Gold Hill, Monrovia, Calif., nationally known lecturer, teacher and flower arranger. Monday, April 24 at 1:30 p.m. in the Red Lacquer Room of the Palmer House, Chicago.

Miss Cronenwett is now on a lecture tour and is presenting an entirely new trend on this subject. She has found the women of the west, middle west and south west to feel it is an innovation and have been creating in her courses, beautiful work showing much individuality and freedom—two elements she stresses in her lectures.

Because of her interest and approach in a creative interpretation, each lecture she presents differs from the other. It is from that standpoint she works entirely and her lectures are not static or of formula type.

She has presented to thousands of women throughout the United States inspirational lectures and courses on this subject of flower decor. The success of her simplified, direct teaching methods has brought to her studio in California students from many states and other lands including Haiti, the Philippines, Hawaii and Iceland.

The Garden Club of Illinois presented Miss Cronenwett to its members several years ago and her forthcoming engagement is by popular request of those who were fortunate enough to enjoy her outstanding presentation.

Tickets may be obtained at the Garden Club of Illinois headquarters in the Palmer House, Chicago.

JOHN DEERE
Equipment

Yes, farming today, the John Deere way, is easier than grandfather ever thought possible. And, it's faster and better, too.

The consistent leadership of John Deere plows typifies the trail-blazing role John Deere equipment has played in mechanizing farming's muscle work.
It was John Deere's steel plow that opened the sticky prairie soil to profitable farming in 1837. The introduction of the John Deere "Grip Sulky" in 1875 lifted the pioneer farmer's weary legs out of the furrow... forever abolished the necessity of plodding behind a "walker." Today, plowing with John Deere plows is plowing at its best... and easiest, thanks to Truss-Frame design and hydraulic Powr-Trol.

The full line of modern John Deere equipment is designed to make all farming operations easier and more profitable... farms more productive. Come in and discuss your needs with us.

Republican Party Principles

In the statement issued by the Republican Party at their old-fashioned "box supper", economy and efficiency in government were stressed and "Liberty vs. Socialism" was the slogan adopted.

These party principles are nothing new. They were not originated by the Republican Party. They are the principles that Senator Byrd has been expounding for the last decade. And before Senator Byrd they were the principles of Thomas Jefferson, of Andrew Jackson, of Grover Cleveland, of Jack Garner, and of Al Smith. Yes, they are even the selfsame principles that Franklin Delano Roosevelt places in the Democratic Platform of 1932, and upon which he campaigned the first time he ran. In speech after speech in that campaign he spoke against government waste and extravagance, denounced deficit spending, the swollen Federal bureaucracy, high taxes, and heavy debts, and pledged himself to efficiency and economy, and a "25 per cent reduction in Federal spending". How well he kept his promises we all know.

The real opposition to the deficit spending program—the spend, tax, and elect program—has come from the conservative Democrats of the South, Senator Byrd, Senator George Jack Garner, and along with them can be placed Jim Farley. These men have fought the New Deal trend toward Socialism more bitterly than most Republicans. And so, while the son of hoisting the banner of "Liberty vs. Socialism" goes to the Republican Party as a Party, the leading Democrats of the Nation have been carrying that banner and fighting for it for years.

The 1950 Congressional Elections

From all indications the Congressional elections this fall will be the hottest fought and the most bitter we have experienced for several decades. With organized labor going all out against those who put through the Taft-Hartley Act, raising a campaign fund of $15,000,000 to be used in an effort to defeat the so-called "enemies of labor"; and with President Truman taking the stump to ask the voters to elect Charles McCarthys who will give him the Socialistic legislation he has been demanding, we can expect a hot, bitter, dirty campaign—and we might as well get ready for it.

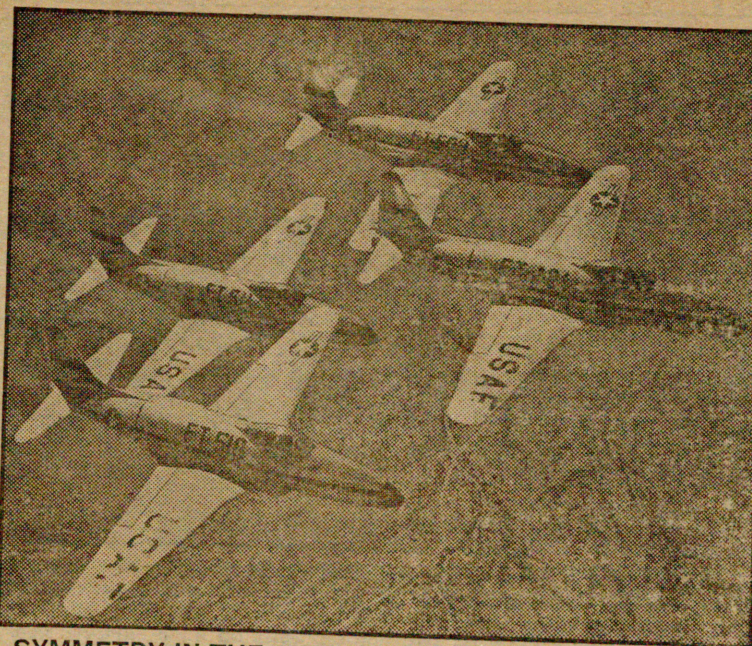

The Senatorial battles in Ohio, Illinois, and Pennsylvania will hold the spotlight, but the individual battles of about 80 Representatives will be hot and heavy, because these 80 Representatives have been marked for defeat by "the powers that be".

The 1950 Congressional elections will decide whether we are going to tread the path that England now treads, or whether we are going to tread the path our forefathers trod—the path that has provided us with the highest standard of living to be found anywhere upon earth. "Choose ye this fall the path you want to tread."

A CHANGE COMING—WE HOPE!

The writer believes a political change is in the offing. There is a reaction setting in against the New Deal trend toward Socialism, a reaction against deficit spending, and a demand for tax reduction. The avalanche of propaganda in favor of a welfare state sent out by the New Deal bureaucrats has had its effect, but "something for nothing" program has about run its course; and the people are frightened because the mortgage has become due and must be paid off in heavy taxes.

Our national debt has risen during the New Deal years from $20 billion to $200 billion; our Federal tax bill has risen from $5 billion to $40 billion; and the purchasing power of the dollar has been cut in half. Wages and pensions have doubled during this period, but the national debt has increased 15 times, and the tax load has increased 8 times. The average worker, therefore, after paying his taxes and $2.00 for every $1.00 worth of goods he buys—is worse off today than he was 20 years ago. The New Dealers are heading us toward national bankruptcy and financial chaos. The American people are becoming fearful and want a change.

Reveals Torture Methods Still Used In Mental Hospital

The nine mental patients chained to concrete slabs who suffocated to death in a recent fire which swept a mental institution near Philadelphia, Pa. are tragic examples of the needless inhuman treatment suffered by the mentally ill. Such cruel restraints should be relegated to the museum of archaic horrors along with the screw, the rack and the wheel insists Albert Deutsch in his article "Women in Strait Jackets", appearing in the May Woman's Home Companion.

The public is justifiably shocked by occasional revelations of similar cruelty toward convicts in some prisons. But they remain strangely indifferent to the excessive, unnecessary and often harmful confinement of innocent mental patients, the author charges.

There are many proven better ways of handling the violent and dangerous than the use of strait jackets and chains. It has been found for instance, that repression usually aggravates explosive emotions. But properly supervised freedom of movement tranquilizes.

Dr. Alfred Paul Bay, medical superintendent of the Manteno State hospital in Illinois which dispensed with strait jackets years ago, says: "The use of mechanical restraints for the control of disturbed mental patients cannot be justified on psychiatric, humanitarian or economic grounds, or for consideration of personal safety."

However, the nonrestraint philosophy implies much more than the mere removal of restraint. Many a well-intentioned superintendent has come to grief in a non-restraint experiment by simply taking off strait jackets and stopping there. Prolonged idleness breeds mischief and trouble even in stable people. Patients must be given a chance to work off steam in wholesome endeavors, to get their minds track-ed back to social patterns.

Some progress is being made along these lines, the Companion reveals. For instance, last October Minnesota's Governor Luther W. Youngdahl lighted a huge bonfire of the grounds of the Anoka State hospital. Consumed in that pyre were hundreds of strait jackets and other restraint appliances.

"We have liberated ourselves from witchcraft," Governor Youngdahl declared. "In taking off mechanical restraints from the patients, we are taking off intellectual restraints from ourselves."

In describing the conditions at Anoka which led to this act, Governor Youngdahl cited one especially cruel case. "I found one young woman tied hand and foot to a heavy chair fastened to the floor," he recalled. "Why she was kept in restraint, nobody seemed to know. Finally someone looked up her record. Several years ago the girl had threatened to jump out of a window and she was bound hand and foot by day and tied into her bed at night. The ward attendant informed me that when she first came on the job she found the girl already strapped up and took it for granted that was the way it was to be permanently. Nobody ever bothered to ask why."

Other governors have looked upon similar scenes but managed to erase them from memory and conscience. It may be that skeptics have predicted dire results with the abandonment of restraints. Yet no calamities occurred at Anoka and other mental hospitals which have adopted nonrestraint. Quite the contrary. The hospitals became more orderly, the patients more peaceable.

"It is time for institutional psychiatry in America to be practiced on a nonrestraint basis from coast to coast," the author challenges. "We have allowed in most states the pernicious restraint system to persist only because the lay and professional public hasn't challenged it with sufficient force. This vestige of the olden times, when the insane used to be punished instead of treated, can be abolished if enough people will it."

April 23-29 marks the second annual observance of Mental Health Week in the United States, which is sponsored by health agencies and civic groups.

MOKENA

A family surprise party was given Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Erickson in honor of her father Fred Brown and his birthday. A turkey dinner was served at noon and the afternoon was spent watching television. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Stanley Brown, Louis Nelson and family of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Schiek and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Erickson. A birthday cake was served later. Mr. Brown was the recipient of many nice gifts. Mrs. Ernest Munson, who is enjoying a visit with her sister, Miss Anna Marcusson and brothers in Smaland, Sweden, writes that her passage overseas was rather stormy. She also told of the weather on Easter Sunday as being rain with sleet. Sweden didn't have anything on Chicago, and for we complained of the same conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Manhart spent the weekend in Palestine where they visited his grandmother who is ill in the hospital there. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kropp and son David returned last Thursday from a 10 day motor trip to St. August, and other points in Florida. They were privileged to attend Easter sunrise services which they enjoyed greatly.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ambtehl and son Herschel from Farina, Ill. spent the weekend with their son and brother, Donald Ambtehl and family. The adult bible study group of the Methodist church will meet with Mr. and Mrs. William Bradley in their home Sunday evening April 23 starting at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Lizzie Moriarty, 87, who lives alone in her home on Front street, was taken seriously ill during last Thursday night. When Mrs. Harry Bettenhausen called Friday morning she called Dr. E. G. McMahon. Later that morning she was removed to Silver Cross hospital where she underwent surgery for a bowel obstruction Saturday morning. She is doing nicely and improving each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schneider have sold their home on Parker road to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sherwood of Chicago who will move in by May first. The Schneider's have purchased the Sovereign house on Hickory street in Frankfort and will move in next Tuesday.

Miss Beverly Hall's 16th birthday was celebrated in her home recently with a party of 14 young people. Games and dancing were enjoyed with refreshments. All had a pleasant evening. Beverly received many nice gifts.

JOLLY TROOPERS
The meeting of the Mokena Jolly Troopers was held Monday evening April 3, at the home of Dolores Cooper.

Installation of officers was held. The meeting was opened with the 4H pledge. Roll call was answered with what the girls like to do in their leisure time. It was decided that the club would donate fifty dollars to the Will county camping fund. Project books were passed out. It was announced that the girls would be excused from school for Farm Youth Day.

All 4H members interested in attending Camp Shaw-wa-nas-see should have their money in by April 28. Ways to improve walking were discussed.

Marilyn Cooper presented a few selections on the clarinet, accompanied by her sister Dolores. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by all.—Carole Carpenter, Publicity chairman.

Legume Standover Proved by Test

If you're looking for a money-making way of farming, start a rotation that includes at least one year of standover legume hay, says Farm Adviser Hughes.

In making the changeover, you'll probably find that liming your land according to soil test will pay big dividends in larger crops, he adds. The adviser bases these recommendations on long-time results from soils and crops experiments at the Mt. Morris soils experiment field in Ogle County.

One year of standover legumes gave much better results than two catch crops because it added much more nitrogen and organic matter to the soil.

In the livestock system of farming, a 4-year rotation off corn, oats, wheat, legume hay was used up to 1948. The best treatment was to 1948. The best treatment was to 1948. The best treatment was to 1948.

These yields were worth $75 an acre at 1945-48 prices after paying all costs, including labor, seed harvesting and marketing. The $75 was left for taxes and your reward for management.

In contrast, in the grain system a 4-year rotation of corn, corn, oats; wheat was used up to 1948 with legume catch crops in the oats and wheat.

The best treatment was residues lime and phosphate. The 1945-48 average crop yields were only 73 bushels of corn the first year, 60 bushels of second year corn; 60 bushels of oats, and 25 bushels of wheat.

These crops were valued at $59 an acre after paying all costs.

In contrast Ogle county yields for 1944-47 were 57 bushels of corn an acre, 49 bushels of oats; 26 bushels of wheat and 1 1/2 tons of hay. Except for wheat, these are considerably below even the low yields of the grain system at Mt. Morris field.

In the livestock system, manure at $24 an acre was the most valuable soil building material. Lime added another $7 an acre in extra crops.

In the grain system, lime was worth a healthy $28.50 an acre in larger crops, Hughes reports. The total value of residues, lime and phosphate was $37.

Hughes points out the value of manure and lime in this way: If you figured the manured-limed plot as equal to a 100 acre farm, it would take 154 acres of untreated land to produce the same net take 223 acres of untreated land to profits.

In the grain system, it would give you the same net returns, after paying all costs as 100 acres of land treated with residues, lime and phosphate.

There are four crop rotations being studied at Mt. Morris field. The new grain and livestock rotations are in their third season this year. The livestock rotation is corn, corn; oats; legume hay. The grain system rotation is corn, oats with a legume catch crop wheat; legume hay.

In addition there is a 7 year rotation of corn, barley; clover and alfalfa hay-4 years of alfalfa alone. The fourth rotation is corn, oats followed by either timothy; soybeans, clover or alfalfa.

Mt. Morris is one of 26 soils experiment fields scattered over the state and operated by the College of Agriculture, D. A. Vinson handles the Mt. Morris field, under supervision of F. C. Bauer, and A. L. Lang.

Nation Going Soft

Lesson for April 23, 1950

AFTER the fraternity dance one of the "brothers" shot another, for no good reason. Well, there was a reason of a sort. The killer was drunk, on liquor the fraternity had bought and served him. His excuse, when arrested, was that when he was "tight" he was trigger-happy. . . . A prominent motion picture star divorces her husband for cruelty. It comes out at the trial that he was mean anyhow, and that all his meannesses got worse when he was drunk. One wonders: Did the know him very well before she married him?

Dr. Foreman

Every day the papers carry reports of cars that "went out of control" with serious or fatal results. Careful reading of the story too often brings out the fact that the boys had been visiting a night-spot or two before the crash. Survivors will tell the police they couldn't have been drunk, they had only had a few beers. Well, you don't have to be drunk to let a car get out from your control. This writer personally has observed a driver who had had exactly one beer run a car right off the pavement in broad sunlight.

Gets Monotonous, Doesn't It?

A SEX CRIME is committed by a middle-aged man who sheds tears over it afterward and can hardly remember anything about it. "I never would have done it if I had been sober," he says. . . . A girl is found murdered in a men's rooming-house, a nice girl too.

Nobody was drunk—they had only been taking a few drinks. . . . A 27-year-old woman was shot and killed during an argument with her sister-in-law. The shooting, it was claimed, was accidental. They had been having some friendly beers in a near-by tavern "for a couple of hours" before the shooting.

After they got home, there was an argument. One woman got her husband's revolver out to scare the other woman, and the first thing she knew, she was being arrested for murder. Her husband told the police that when sober his wife was "deathly scared" of guns.

(Beer, the brewers' ads tell us, is the friendly drink, it is the drink of moderation; "Beer Belongs." It does, indeed, but where? Possibly that unfortunate killer-woman had believed what the ads told her.) . . .

The Truth About Liquor

WELL . . . this could be strung out to the length of several columns, without half trying. The above items are not from some chamber of horrors conducted by the W.C.T.U., not from a sermon by some Anti-Saloon league preacher, but gathered from newspaper items from a few days' papers in a city which certainly is not prejudiced against liquor.

The truth about liquor can never be learned from the advertising pages, it can be better learned from the news columns. Better yet, if you want to know the truth about it, ask the lawyers, doctors and ministers you know. Ask the lawyers if their business would be brisker or slower if liquor were not in existence.

Ask the doctors whether steady drinkers have stronger or weaker resistance to disease. Ask the ministers if they know of any troubles in their congregations due to liquor. (And if even church people have troubles with it, what about people with no religion?)

Drink and Doom

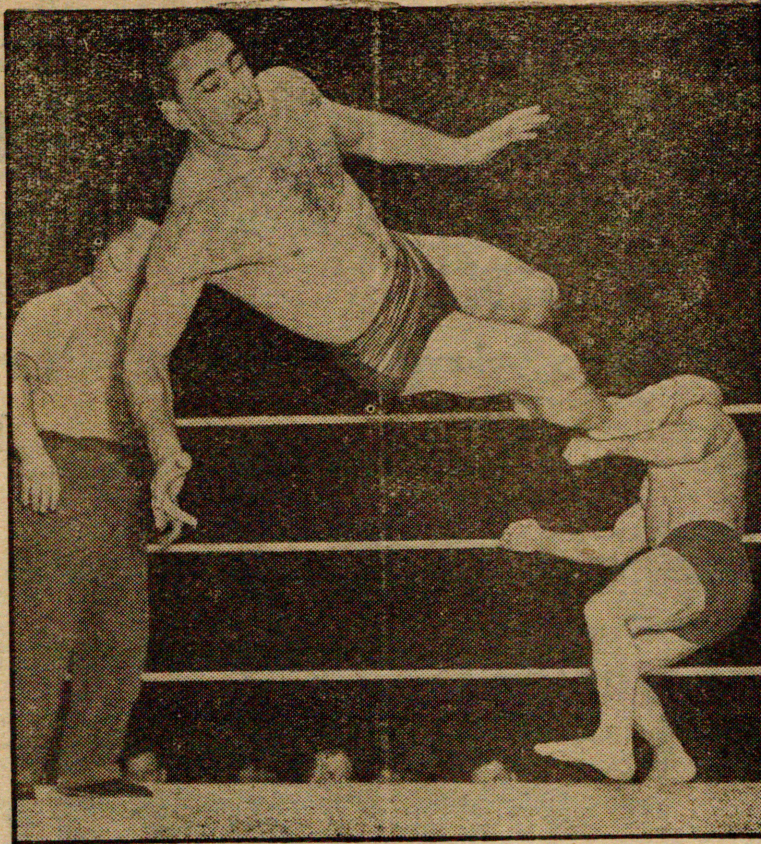

IT IS NOT TRUE that if liquor were totally abolished from the earth, all the troubles of mankind would vanish. Man has too much meanness in him. A sober scoundrel is one of the worst. But it is true that liquor lends itself all too easily to all sorts of troubles, all sorts of sins. When Amos thunders against the evils of his time, drunkenness is one of the sins prominent on his list.

Remember that in Amos' time there was no whisky, no brandy, no distilled liquors, only "mild" stuff like wine. Every denunciation of drink in the Bible is directed against what would now be called light wine and beers.

One thing is as certain now as it was in Amos' time: A nation that insists on having its liquor is not the nation God will insist on saving when its day of doom arrives.

Cole Bros. Circus In Chgo. Stadium April 21 to May 7

The huge Cole Bros Circus, one of the largest of all railroad circuses on tour today will go down in amusement history next week as having made the longest trip on record of any circus — from Miami, Florida to Chicago. The 1600 mile trip will require the use of three railroads and will consume over 130 hours, according to J.A. Gephart, the Circus' general agent. Water and feed stops for the animals will be made at Atlanta, Ga., Chattanooga, Tenn., and Cincinnati-Ohio en route to Chicago and the Stadium where the show opens a 17 day stand at the west side arena April 21st.

The cost for the railroad move on this trip is also a record breaker according to Gephart, who states the total cost will exceed $14,000.

According to present plans, the circus trains consisting of double length all steel flat cars, which carry the rolling cell blocks on wheels, housing scores of ferocious jungle beasts, will begin loading on Sunday night, April 9 and will roll into Chicago, via the Pennsylvania Railroad, and make its way to Wood street, only a few blocks from the Stadium.

Heavy equipment wagons, diesel trucks, tractors, jeeps, and the largest menagerie in the world including elephants, horses, camels, zebras, hippopotami, and other animals will roll off the cars and head for dress rehearsals to polish the show for its 1950 debut.

The usual dining tent complete with the mobile kitchen units, prepared to produce 3000 meals a day for the 1080 circus personnel, will set up on the west side of the Stadium with the wagons, tractors, trucks, and mobile equipment taking their place along the street and lots surrounding the arena. A fleet of diesel trucks and tractors will transport the mobile equipment to the Stadium but the animals must take it on the hoof.

Most uninterested spectator will undoubtedly be "Big Blanche" the largest elephant in the world. "Big Blanche" weighs an even 14,602 pounds and stands 11 feet three and a half inches tall. Its old stuff to her, having spent all but 10 of her 85 years as a gallant trouper under the Big top.

The British have developed an insect-proof wrapping for packages composed of several very thin layers of cellulose wadding impregnated with DDT.
